

ALWAYS AT WORK.
Rochester Democrat.—A gas meter never lets grass grow under its feet.

THE DAILY HORROR.

IN TIME FOR TURKEY.
Milwaukee Wisconsin.—At this rate, the Senate may not get to a vote before Christmas.

IMITATING ROYALTY.
Pittsburgh Post.—Francis Joseph must feel like a czar now that an attempt has been made to blow him up.

SHAMING FATHER TIME.
Washington News.—The extra session is six weeks old, and nothing done yet except the collection of salaries.

A MUCH SOUGHT OPPORTUNITY.
Toledo Blade.—Now if Governor Waite wants his bridges painted with a little gore, let him take a slide for Brazil.

COV-BOY PHILOSOPHY.
Gibson News.—When man is not fighting for his rights he is quarreling over his wrongs. Such is human life.

THE KNOT AND THE CLUB.
Washington Star.—Russia has abolished the knot and the United States is doing her best to discourage the policemen's club.

IF THE "POPS" WERE IN.
New York Advertiser.—Now, if the Populists were in control these tooth-massacres could be stopped by legislation.

TWO BIRDS WITH ONE STONE.
St. Louis Globe-Democrat.—Utah's annexation to Nevada would abolish a rotten borough and efface Stewart at the same time.

CHICAGO WANTS THE SENATE.
Chicago Record.—Why not shut up the Senate and invite all the members to attend the World's Fair until they are ready to vote?

A PAINFUL DUTY.
Chicago Tribune.—In a few weeks the onerous duty will devolve upon Governor Alt of trying to write a Thanksgiving proclamation.

HOW IT IS DONE.
Philadelphia Times.—A faint idea may be had of how road agents work by watching a train boy go through an excursion train.

UNFORTUNATE DOOMERS.
Kansas City Star.—A dozen or so boomers who started for the Strip found homes which will not be disturbed by rival claimants or anything else.

ANARCHIST'S PARADISE.
Minneapolis Journal.—Emma Goldman ought to buy a corner lot in Rio de Janeiro. Bombs are flying so thick there that people have to carry umbrellas.

BOOMING THE STRIP.
Toledo Blade.—The town of Perry, in the Cherokee Strip, has three days and four weekly parties. A long-felt want seems to have become over-filled.

MEETING AN EMERGENCY.
Chicago Inter Ocean.—Senator Cullom says that Congress can do nothing in an emergency. The Senate has certainly demonstrated the truth of Senator Cullom's remark.

MUSCLE, NOT BRAINS, SERVED.
Chicago Dispatch.—If statesmanship in the Senate has degenerated into a mere question of physical endurance, Illinois ought to be recruited in that body by Sandow and Sampson.

THE OULY LARRY CAN'T BRIDGE.
Chicago Inter Ocean.—Gresham's appointment is enough to make the Administration was Larry Neal's comment on Cleveland when the Democratic Administration began.

WHY THE DUBS REJOICE.
New York Advertiser.—All Newport is ringing with enthusiasm over the appointment of a favorite lawn tennis player as Ambassador to Rome. Every Anglomaniac and dullest in the place is filled with a new ambition. The elevation of James Jencks Van Allen to Ambassadorial dignity is an official recognition of Newport's importance as an aristocratic summer resort.

Mrs. ROBERT LLOYD, formerly Miss Best, died Saturday morning at 8 o'clock at her home on Lawrence creek of neuralgia. She had been sick but a day or two, the disease having started her husband's death.

WE have an idea that the United States is a great place with its 90,000,000 people, but there are 700,000,000 people in Asia and more than 200,000,000 in Africa. The scientific estimate is that there are 1,400,000,000 people on earth, of whom not more than 500,000,000 wear clothing from neck to toe.

FOR a lame back or a pain in the side or chest, try salicylic acid. It is a powerful remedy for rheumatism and is binding it onto the affected parts. This treatment will cure any ordinary case in one or two days. Pain balms also cure rheumatism. Fifty-cent bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds.

THE funeral of Albert G. Scholler, the poor fellow who died of the injuries received in the Illinois Central Railroad wreck, occurred at Ripley yesterday, and was one of the most largely attended ever seen in this city. He was a straightforward young man and his friends were numbered by the hundreds at Ripley.

UNDER the old system of voting the voter could be beforehand as to how he would cast his ballot, and his party could be counted. Under the new order of things he cannot do this. He must cast his vote, and no one can ever know whether or not he is telling the truth. All things considered, we believe the new method of voting better than the old system.

JAMES A. RILEY in "A German Soldier" will appear at the Washington Opera-house to-morrow night. It is a German musical comedy-drama, and is claimed to be one of the best productions of its kind on the road. They carry a carload of special scenery and have no mechanical effects. CHARLES RAMSEY was in Vanceburg yesterday. He had dealt loads of money and he bought anything he insisted on paying double price for it. Maysville merchants are quite satisfied to get one price for their goods—frequently even at the end of several years.

A BILL has been introduced in the House by Congressman Berry providing for the appropriation of $10,000 for the construction of the very long lock and dam on the Long river. It is his intention if possible to make the river navigable from its mouth to Falmouth.

MRS. CLAVEL, who was buried at Carlisle Saturday, was probably the largest woman in Kentucky. At the time of her death she weighed 365 pounds. Her coffin was so large that it could not be gotten into the house by her residence, and the body was carried into the yard and was placed in it.

William Austin Dead.

WILLIAM Austin the printer died at his home in the Fifth Ward at 5:15 yesterday afternoon. He had been in poor health for several months and gradually grew weaker until his death was not at all unexpected, though somewhat sudden.

Mr. Austin was born May 7th, 1849, and was therefore almost 44 years of age.

He learned the printer's trade in his youth, and was for twenty-eight years connected with The Bulletin in this city.

He was married December 18th, 1873, to Miss Sarah M. Ford. To them were born seven children, four of whom, with their mother, survive.

In early life he was a member of the Episcopal Church, and the funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Chapin of that church at 10 o'clock to-morrow. After which the burial will take place in the Maysville Cemetery. He was also a member of the American House of Commerce.

HAD THE DISEASE.

J. Allen Ross on a Democratic Drunkard at Frankfort.

He parts his name in the middle.

He was a member of the Democratic Anti-Separate Cause Convention.

He drank a little more than was good for him. He had closed against the Whiskers for disorderly conduct.

Ross claims that he was not misbehaving and that his prosecutor is a pretentious fellow by Republicans who believe a colored man has no right to be a Democrat.

The reporter says that he was in a condition to need a separate coach.

DEFAULTER TATES SURREIN.

Prospect of the Case Against Them Being Heard Soon.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. James W. Tate's sureties came up in the Circuit Court Saturday before Judge Cantrell, and was transferred from the law to the equity side of the court.

This is a partial victory for the Commonwealth, as it will give a speedy trial of the case at the next term of the Circuit Court, sitting as the Fiscal Court of the Commonwealth, and the account rendered to Congress.

The case involves the bond of ex-Attorney General Tate, and has been in litigation since the defection in 1885.

OH, NO!

There's No "Nepotism" Under This Democratic Administration.

It has been decided by the Postoffice authorities that Napoleon Carlisle shall handle the mails for the Postoffice in Covington for the next four years.

The nomination was sent to the Senate Saturday.

It is the most conspicuous case of nepotism on record, and can hereafter be taken as a model when the finger of scorn is pointed to some of the cases of a similar character that have occurred under Republican rule.

Obviously Representative Berry has been making the light for Mr. Carlisle, but any cognizant of affairs here knows that the Secretary of the Treasury has not been back for the defense of the claims of his brother for the position.

If there are any other members of the family to be taken into the official fold they have not yet come to light.

We now have the Secretary of the Treasury, Postmaster General, and the brother of the one in office in Covington and drawing a very comfortable salary from Government.

This is another instance of the beauty of having your relations in position where they possess influence in getting soft places.

No doubt Mr. Carlisle will make an excellent Postmaster.

He is in view of the attitude of the President in calling some Senators up with a sharp turn for prostration to appoint their sons as clerks to their committees.

It is now in order for Secretary Carlisle himself to answer the question of nepotism.

He is now in the service of Uncle Sam.

CHRISMAN'S STORY.

HE TESTIFIES THAT HE WAS A SUITOR, NOT MANAGER.

Frances Leon's Testimony in the Suit of Marie Decca for Divorce—Both Parties Well Known in This City.

The following, from The Harrodsburg (Pa.) Telegraph, is the testimony of Frances Leon, the husband of Marie Decca, the songstress, whom she is suing for divorce.

The defense opened today with the defendant, Francis Leon, on the stand. After an objection had been filed by the counsel for the plaintiff as to the competency of the witness, he testified that he was doing newspaper work at the New York Chautauque Assembly in August, 1901, when he met Marie Decca in a professional way.

An acquaintance followed and there were drives and long walks and dinners with the songstress and her mother. Witness was asked whether the plaintiff had ever told him anything about her success up to the time of their meeting and he replied that she had said that five persons were dependent upon her and she was not making any money. She had asked him to come and help her through the new papers which he represented. At the request of Mrs. Decca, he went to Maysville, Ky., where she was engaged to give a concert. He detailed how he was with her there, how he was a suitor for her hand and how he was assisting her and booming her in the newspapers.

He learned the printer's trade in his youth, and was for twenty-eight years connected with The Bulletin in this city.

He was married December 18th, 1873, to Miss Sarah M. Ford. To them were born seven children, four of whom, with their mother, survive.

money was concerned. He also reported falsely that he was courting her and that she was paying all expenses. She had told him he was not a success as a manager.

He concluded his morning testimony with an account of the numerous engagements which were failures financially and how the plaintiff complained that he was a failure as a manager and she wanted to return East for the regular season.

NOTWITHSTANDING the old times

James Bros. had more work than they could do and now he is simply doing nothing.

Kentucky Fairs.

To accommodate the Chicago World's Fair travel the Chesapeake and Ohio trains No. 1 and 2 will now run through, without change, as before, excepting the days when they cover the Chesapeake and Ohio and Big Four routes.

Good Service.

Dr. Hoke Smith's Cure is justly entitled to the praise it is receiving. However introduced it has proven itself the most good chance for a simple cure for colds and coughs, hoarseness, whooping-cough, bronchitis, soreness of the lungs and every kind of cough from a simple cold to consumption.

Purely vegetable. Always reliable and effective. For sale at 25 and 50 cents per bottle at Power & Reynolds's Druggists.

RIVER AND RAIL.

Drift and Spikes Picked Up By The Leader's Delegate.

Those who live in Chicago claim that October is not only the best time of the year and it is thought it will be the big month of the World's Fair. There will be at least one more good chance for a simple cure for colds and coughs, hoarseness, whooping-cough, bronchitis, soreness of the lungs and every kind of cough from a simple cold to consumption.

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED.

Excursion to Chicago via C. & O. and Big Four Routes.

On October 21st the Chesapeake and Ohio and Big Four Railroads will run a personally conducted excursion to Chicago.

The excursion will consist of Pullman sleeping cars and vestibule coaches, and it will run through without change from Maysville to Chicago via the proper point to leave the train.

Train stops at Grand Crossroads, Sixth street, and enters the Grand Central Depot at Twelfth street.

Every one guaranteed a seat or berth, and there will be plenty of room for every one.

The C. & O. expects to make this the first excursion to Chicago via the proper point to leave the train.

A Good Thing to Keep at Hand.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are so very much talked to severe cases of cholera morbus and now when we see any of the symptoms of cholera morbus that attend the cholera morbus, diarrhoea, etc., we become scared. We have found Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the very thing to strengthen out in such cases, and always keep it about.

We are not writing this for a pay testimonial, but for the good of our fellow-men. A good thing it is to keep handy in the house. For sale by Power & Reynolds.

The Business Way!

The business way to advertise is to take space by the year, take pains with your advertisements in making them attractive, and change them at least as often as you can.

You may think there are seasons when you don't need to advertise.

We have never seen that time.

Use the dull seasons for looking over your stock and running off that which is becoming out of style or unfashionable, and giving bargains.

If you have space by the year, it costs you no money, and you can make it profitable by converting unsalable goods into money, and reinvesting the money in those things which are salable.

Where is That Banner Now?

VOTE FOR GROVER CLEVELAND AND GET $100,000 FOR YOUR WEALTH.

A liberal reward will be paid to the person who can find this banner at this office, and no questions asked.

THERE are various opinions as to the probable action of Congress. Democratic newspapers such as though the repeal of the Sherman Act will be a panacea for all our financial ills.

The next three months will expose their error. When Congress meets it will be found that the whole money market will be in a state of confusion.

This scheme, in which the President has had the assistance of some New York friends who can finance while they fish, is Mr. CLEVELAND's greatest effort since his Tariff message in 1887. But with a Congress elected under very peculiar circumstances, and fearfully and wonderfully made up, no man can predict the outcome. Hence the want of confidence which has already cost the country two billion dollars in Mr. CLEVELAND's short term.

This scheme for continental coinage proposed by Robert Morris provided the following: Ten quarters make one penny; ten pennies make one cent; ten cents make one dollar; ten dollars make one crown.

The first regular Hebrew coinage was struck by Simon Maclean, B. C. 126. These coins bore on one side a chalice, the pot of manna, on the other a lily and the words in Hebrew characters, "Shalom of Israel."

In China gold and silver are merely commodities, whose price is regulated by the law of supply and demand.

The earliest New England shillings bore the device of a willow tree, afterwards changed to an oak, and out of complaint to King Charles II. His life was wasted by climbing into a tree, that description. Later Massachusetts coin bore a pine tree device.

A TRUCE

Only a Postponement of the Filibustering Tactics.

And Not an Abandonment of Them—The Federal Election Bill Will Play a Star Part After October 19—Two Weeks More of Talk.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—A truce has been declared on the silver fight in the Senate. It is a postponement of the filibustering tactics, and not an abandonment of them. It is a compromise, but at the same time a defeat for Senator Voorhees, who has almost willingly played into the hands of the southern democrats and let them have all the time they want to talk against silver repeal until the house passes the Tucker repeal of the federal election laws and it will come to the Senate. This is exactly what the silver men want—the vote on the silver repeal postponed until they can antagonize it with the repeal of the federal election laws, and Voorhees and his cohorts Friday have fallen into line as quietly and calmly as the most ardent silver men could wish.

About two weeks more the Senate will do nothing but talk. Voorhees claims to have discovered that it was useless to press his motion for all-night sessions because if he did the silver men could filibuster all they wished and tire out the repealers rather than themselves. This was shown by their actions the week, but it is well known here by those who understand the situation thoroughly that the arrangement by no means took the way with the filibustering which is inevitable. It merely postpones it.

After the week or two weeks for which the Senate will do nothing but talk, the debate has expired the same question must be met again. There are pending amendments to the bill, as well as an indefinite range of opportunity for amendments yet unborn. Upon each of the amendments, present and to come, the silver men can argue with plausibility that they have a right to be heard.

Added to all this will be the presence of the bill for repeal of the federal election laws on the Senate calendar. The house expects to send it to the Senate by October 12, and if it comes to a tight place the silver men will try and dilute and displace the silver repeal bill.

Should this scheme be successful it would greatly weaken the chances for repeal of the Sherman law. It would lay the silver men have everything to hope for, nothing to lose. They think that the country may so far regain its wonted prosperity within a month that the people will think the Sherman act not responsible for the panic, and as Mr. Wolcott announced, the pending measure may go the way of the will.

One thing seems to be assured, and that is for the next few weeks things will go quietly in the Senate. The silver men, according to the plan adopted Friday night, will be able to talk daily from 11 to 6, excepting an hour or so which will be devoted to the discussion of the routine business of the Senate, and the repealers will have to sit up and calmly listen to the retreating of old tricks.

It is safe to say that for the next few days there will be a small attendance of senators, because during the truce the leaders will not have to stand guard, nor will the senators be compelled to attend as they were when the war was on.

Meanwhile the president intends to use this time for work. He stated Saturday morning that he was as confident as ever of a direct vote on the repeal, but that he had just a question of endurance upon the part of the senators. It is the purpose of the president and the house to concentrate everything upon the Senate, and use their influence to defeat consideration of any other business until the silver bill is disposed of.

LONGER SESSIONS.
The Senators Will Try To Talk Themselves Silent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The bill for the repeal of the silver purchase act, which was launched on the tardy waters of senatorial debate five weeks ago, is still drifting about helplessly with little or no prospect of reaching a safe harbor within any reasonable time, or with any certainty of ever reaching it.

All the senatorial members, fore and aft, seem to realize the impossibility of securing the vessel to port under existing rules and sailing orders. Senator Platt, of Connecticut, demonstrated a few days ago, that there were but two ways of reaching the safe harbor. One way was to give full power to the majority; the other to wear out the physical endurance of the minority by remaining on the deck day and night, until land was reached.

The ill-fated executive venture, run on the great risk of shipwreck, either on Scylla or Charybdis. In the meantime it simply drifted along. But from an after Monday night, the daily session of the Senate are to be from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m.

A Free-Fight Light-House.

GUADALAJARA, Mex., Sept. 25.—The Colima volcano on the Pacific coast, south of this city, is again active, and the people living near the base of the mountain are greatly alarmed. Many have abandoned their homes. The sight is impressive at night. The flames may be seen for a long distance on sea and land.

Snow Storm in England.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—A severe snow storm has swept over northern England following an unusual spell of warm weather. Dispatches from Italy say that the Apennines are covered with snow. Meteorologists say that the storm will have an unusually hard winter.

HIS REPLY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Col. Phil Thompson filed Congressmen Brockbridge's Saturday morning in the midst of Madison Pollard, as ordered to be done by the court. The plea is a wholesale denial of all the charges made by the fair Madge.

Continuing it says: "Mr. Brockbridge affirms that in the spring of 1894 he was on the train from Lexington to Frankfort and was accompanied by a young woman between 30 and 35 years of age, who introduced herself to him as Miss Madeline Brockbridge, saying that her father was such an admirer of John G. Brockbridge, that he named her after said Brockbridge, that he subsequently the defendant received a letter from the plaintiff saying that she was in great distress and desiring his legal advice and asking him to see her at the Western hotel in Cincinnati, which the defendant answered was inconvenient.

"She then notified him that the matter about which she was distressed was an engagement to marry, which had assumed a condition worse than a divorce, and that she was desiring his help to consummate the contract between her and Roddy by marriage.

"Mr. Brockbridge did not see the plaintiff at the college, and she gave him a full and complete statement of her relations with James Roddy, and thereupon he advised her to consummate the contract between her and Roddy by marriage.

"Mr. Brockbridge denies that he then, or at any other time or place, by wiles and artifices and representations, seduced, attempted to take advantage of the youth and inexperience of Miss Pollard, and he denies that he then, or at any other time or place, seduced the plaintiff; and he denies that the plaintiff was at any time pregnant by him.

"He denies that there was at any time any agreement, contract or understanding of marriage between himself and Miss Pollard, and the plaintiff knew during her entire acquaintance with the defendant that a marriage between the plaintiff and defendant was impossible.

"Monday was the third and last day allowed for the filing of this plea.

"Mr. Brockbridge had already filed a demurrer, but he had gained nothing by this technical reply, as the court had promptly overruled the demurrer.

"The issue will probably be joined in Saturday's plea as it stands and the case goes to trial as soon as it can be prepared.

GRADED INCOME TAX.

A Rescindable Bill Prepared by a Missourian.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Representative De Armond, of Missouri, has prepared a bill for a graded income tax on rather remarkable lines. It imposes a tax on all incomes in excess of $10,000 per annum, the amount to be fixed each year by the secretary of the treasury, the amount of revenue to be secured to be equal to the amount appropriated for the payment of pensions for that year. The rate of the tax is assessed upon incomes ranging from $10,000 to $50,000, as a basis, that on incomes of from $50,000 to $100,000 shall be twice as large, on incomes of from $100,000 to $200,000, three times as large, on incomes of from $200,000 to $500,000, four times as large, on incomes of from $500,000 to $1,000,000, five times as large, and on all incomes in excess of $1,000,000, six times as large.

FOR HIS MONEY.

Two Negroes Murder a Polish Jewellery Peddler in Kentucky.

Mr. VERNON, Ky., Sept. 25.—Joseph Moniak, a Polish Jewellery peddler, was murdered a mile south of this place, by two Negroes, for the purpose of robbery. He was coming north, and met the Negroes near a house on the highway.

The peddler inquired if they had seen some money, and they answered yes, and that they would return to town with him. After going a short distance, shots were heard and the Negroes were seen to run into the woods. At the inquest it was found that a ball had entered the left arm passing on through the heart. One of the Negroes was arrested at Pittsburgh, 30 miles south of here, on a freight train. He will be brought here Saturday.

A TEXAS TERROR.

Mr. Arrington, Who Killed Several Men, Is Killed by Jim Baxter.

LAWSON, Tex., Sept. 25.—News has reached here from McAllen, about 15 miles west of the killing of Mr. Arrington by Jim Baxter. Mr. Arrington owns considerable property in that neighborhood, and as was her usual custom, she was around collecting and looking after her property. She had a dispute with Baxter over some matter and the killing was the result. Mr. Arrington bore an unenviable reputation, having been in the United States penitentiary for pension fraud, and it is reported that she has killed two or three men. Officers have gone to the scene.

Fire at Bellaire, O.

BELLAIRES, O., Sept. 25.—Saturday morning at 8:50 fire was discovered in the J. W. Condon block, this city. It gained such headway that the whole block was wiped out. In it were the undertaking establishment of Grafton & Apple, J. O. Crawford's paint and varnish store, Andrew Turman's barber shop, William Lewis's restaurant and paint store. The loss on whole property will reach $15,000, insurance, $15,000. Cause unknown.

Capt. Gilmore Detailed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—An order has been issued from the war department detailing Capt. Quintin J. Gilmore, 88th cavalry, as professor of military science and tactics at the (Ada) Ohio normal university.

Train Robber Arrested.

HOUSTON, Sept. 25.—A man, who refused to give his name, has been arrested at a camp meeting in Cherokee county, and identified as the party who robbed the train from Lexington to Frankfort, Ky., at 10 a. m. for the election of officers and the transaction of any business connected with the property loss before the meeting. COCHRAN, President.
